Streets ahead of schedule

Older steel clad building stock can prove to be a valuable investment if steps are taken to observe long term service schedules. When the time comes, specialist care and attention is on hand to ensure their continued effectiveness.

By following industry guidelines, it was determined during refurbishment of a 13,000 sq ft unit centrally located in Trafford Park, Manchester, that the original factory coated roof sheets had reached their repaint decision time.

The DriSilane® ReCote specification is designed to fully reinstate steel sheet and cut edge protection, and here proved to be the most effective solution to ensure the unit could be made ready and available for possession to be taken without delay.

Work to the roof and gutters of this project was undertaken without disruption to internal activity, and was completed within budget and several weeks ahead of schedule by DriSilane® Programme experts D&D Industrial Coatings Ltd.
