New dawn for Distribution Unit

Winter brings its own problems when large projects begun in the autumn inevitably slow as good weather and daylight both fall in short supply.

Such was the case, during refurbishment of a 103,000 sq ft former distribution facility in Northampton, where following industry guidelines, it was determined that the original factory coated roof sheets had reached their repaint decision time.

Fortunately DriSilane® Programme experts Doncaster Maintenance UK Ltd were able to offer the most effective solution, using the complete range of moisture tolerant products that avoid the need to continually monitor the dew point and take full advantage of available daylight.

The DriSilane® ReCote specification is designed to fully reinstate steel sheet and cut edge protection, and here proved to be the most effective solution to ensure the facility could continue to provide secure warehousing for years to come.

Work to both roof and gutters was undertaken without internal disruption. By using DriSilane® moisture tolerant products, this large project was completed within budget and on schedule.
